STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW JERSEY PUT OUT OF BUSINESS BY DECISION OF U. S. CIRCUIT COURT

THE DECISION IS UNANIMOUS

Standard of New Jersey Cannot Vote Stock or Take Dividends from Subsidiary Companies

John D. Rockefeller

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—In a sweeping unanimous decision the United States circuit court today sustains the suit of the government for the dissolution of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the decree rendering the parent or holding company inoperative by enjoining it forever from voting the stock of its subsidiary companies and forbidding the subsidiary companies to pay dividends to the New Jersey company. The decision sustains the Sherman anti-trust law and applies it rigorously to the Standard Oil monopoly.

The decision was announced by Judge Elmer E. Adams, the government being sustained on nearly every point. The only exceptions are made in favor of some of the minor subsidiary companies named as defendants. These, it is held, are not clearly shown to be dominated by the trust. The orders of the court in regard to the Standard take effect in thirty days.

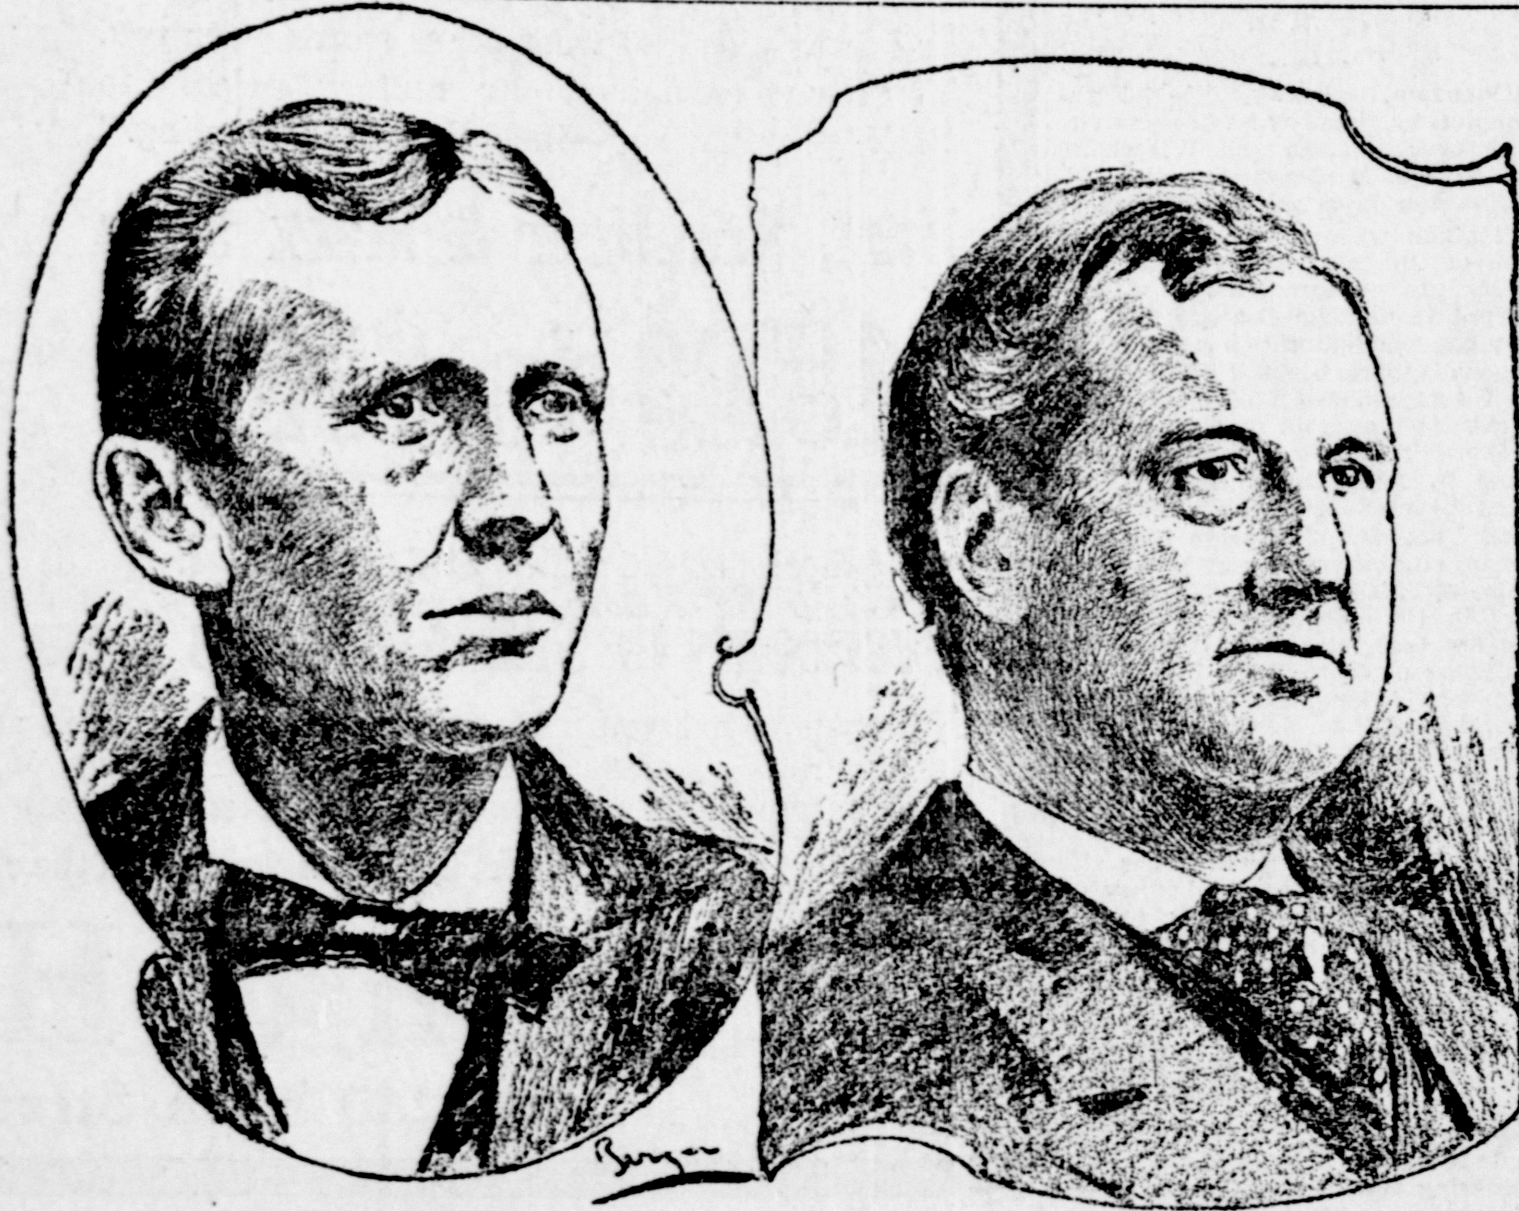

The court finds that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the individual defendants and the several subsidiary companies engaged in petroleum or its products among the several states, or with foreign nations and controlled by the principal company, have entered into a combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce among the several states, such as is declared illegal by the Sherman anti-trust law.

Not only was the opinion unanimous, being concurred in by all the judges, and the decree signed by all of them, but Judge Hook wrote a separate concurring opinion in which he made a number of points for the government stronger than those in the opinion which was read as that of the court.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey by the decree entered today is enjoined from voting the stock in any of the defendant companies which it acquired by virtue of the combination and from exercising or being allowed to exercise any control, supervision, direction or influence over the acts of any of these companies by virtue of holding stock, and other powers through the combination. The other defendant companies are enjoined from declaring or paying any dividends to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey on account of stock acquired by it through combination or permitting the combination to vote said stock.

Sanborn Writes Decree
The opinion was written by Judge Walter H. Sanborn of St. Paul. It was announced from the bench by Judge Elmer E. Adams of St. Louis.

WHITE PLAGUE CRUSADE WILL BE BEGUN IN LA CROSSE NEXT MONDAY

THIS YEAR UNDER STATE MANAGEMENT

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB IN CHARGE—FUNDS REMAIN
HERE—PLAN COUNTY
SANITARIUM

With an appeal to the public issued by circular letter Monday, the 1909 anti-tuberculosis stamp campaign will be begun in La Crosse under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club, which will have full charge of the local crusade. The circulars are over the signature of its president, Mrs. W. R. Finch, and the splendid assistance lent by the organization last year inspires the belief that the results this year will be eminently satisfactory.

Notice of Meeting
The following notice was given

out by the secretary for publication today:

"The Twentieth Century club is called for a special meeting at the home of Mrs. W. R. Finch, 435 South Fourth street, Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 2:30 p. m. The meeting is called for the purpose of making final arrangements for the sale of the anti-tuberculosis Christmas stamps and the presence of every member is desired. After the business has been disposed of the meeting will resolve itself into an informal social."

Program Arranged
It is expected that at this meeting final details will be completed, and that beginning Monday work will progress according to a well considered program the efficiency of which is beyond question.

Management in State
A change in the management of the campaign in Wisconsin, and a new scheme affecting the disbursement of the proceeds, is the most important change in the general plans. Whereas the management last year resided in the National Anti-Tuberculosis congress, this year it is directly in charge of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, the state branch of the parent organization.

Funds Stay at Home
This year, instead of sending the funds to the national organization for disbursement, they will all remain in the state and disbursed as follows:

One-half the sum raised in each city goes to the treasury of the state association, to be used under its direction.

The remaining one-half is retained by the city association and is to be devoted partly to fighting the disease in the city and county, and partly to a fund looking to the erection in the future of a tuberculosis sanitarium in the county. In this way, it is planned, every county in the United States will eventually have a sanitarium for the treatment of the White Plague.

Officers Unpaid
In connection with the campaign, announcement has been made relating to the compensation paid for workers in the cause, the statement positively asserting THAT BUT ONE MAN IN WISCONSIN WHO IS AN OFFICER OF THE ASSOCIATION DRAWS PAY FOR HIS WORK. Sec. retary Roberts, who devotes his time to it, and who does field work as well as office work, is remunerated. The state president and other state officers draw no pay whatever, nor do the local county and city officers, the clubs and individual citizens who are enlisted receive one cent for their work. It is a labor of philanthropy entirely.

CHAMPIONSHIPS OF EAST AND WEST ARE STAKES TODAY IN BIG CONTESTS ON THE GRIDIRON

ND 142 MEN ALIVE IN THE ST. PAUL MINE AFTER 7 DAYS

DEBRIS PROTECTS THEM FROM DEATH

Food They Had with Them
Sustained Life; Men Are Surprised at the Lapse
of Time

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 20.—About 100 more men have been found in the mine alive, most of them in a weakened condition.

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 20.—J. W. Paul of the Pittsburgh government mine inspectors, came out of the St. Paul mine at 2 p. m. and told newspaper men that 42 miners had been found alive in the east tunnel of the second level of the mine. He declared the men thought they had been in the mine only one day.

They were sheltered behind a wall of debris, Paul declared, and lived on food they had with them when the fire occurred.

It was announced at noon that bodies which were not identified after they had been on the surface for 24 hours would be buried at once. As fast as bodies were identified they were turned over to relatives or buried.

At 1 p. m. fifty bodies had been taken from the mine and the work of recovering them was progressing rapidly. Despite the burned condition of the bodies it was found easier than at first supposed to recognize and before noon 23 of them had been identified.

21 of the Men Out
Before 2:30 this afternoon, 21 of the 42 men had been removed from the mine and were taken to a sleeping car to rest. The first two brought up were Joe Pigatti and his brother Salvatore. They told a dramatic story of spending a week buried under the earth without realizing the passage of time.

Jos. Pigatti said the men had plenty of food in their dinner buckets and that the did not suffer in that respect. He did not know how they got enough air.

Pigatti said when they first discovered that they were caught in the mine, they tried to dig their way out. William Clelland, an Englishman, said Pigatti, took charge of the party and persuaded them to stop digging. He explained that they would probably be buried under the earth and urged them not to dig an opening for noxious gases to come in.

Laughed—Then Prayed for Escape
Clelland finally persuaded them to sit down and face the situation quietly. Time hung heavily on their hands, said Pigatti, and they told funny stories and laughed and joked to pass away the time. Finally as the hours grew longer, he said, the fear of death crept over them and some of the miners fell on their knees and prayed loudly to God.

After a long time, he declared, they heard noises in the shaft outside and the voices of men and realized that rescuers were looking for them. Then they waited, said Pigatti, until the rescuers reached them this afternoon.

Delirium of Joy
The rescue of 42 men was attended by wild scenes of joy. When the wife of George Semich saw him walking unburied from the mine, after she had thought him dead, she threw herself on the ground in a wild delirium of joy. Twenty of the men were in such condition that they were able to walk to the sleeping cars. Some of them threw themselves on the ground and kissed the feet of their rescuers.

One of Them May Die
One of them, George Eddy, was completely exhausted by his ordeal and is not expected to die. Among the others rescued were Jos. Crescano, John Ahore, Frank Borianna and John Semich.

Wm. Hynes, one of the men saved, told the newspaper men that this was his second experience. He said he was once buried in the Marquette mine near here for 72 hours without great suffering. He was in good condition.

CARMEN DANCE TONIGHT
A great attendance is expected at the Carmen's dance, Lincolnton hall, tonight. The sale of tickets has been unusually large.

Krentz's band furnishes music, and electric effects and decorations are of remarkable beauty.

The boy will be brought into county court this afternoon and will probably be committed to the industrial school.

WOULD HAVE HIT COURTS AT HOME

American Federation Convention would Have Been in Contempt if Held
in United States

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—The A. F. of L. convention by unanimous vote today and amid vociferous cheering re-elected Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor. The applause lasted for several minutes, the delegates standing and waving their arms wildly.

"Who's all right?" yelled the delegates.
"Gompers," came a roar of response.
"Who's all wrong?" was then demanded.

"Wright," shouted the delegates. Wright is the judge of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, who excoriated Gompers, Morrison and Mitchell in passing sentence upon them.

The general opinion of the delegates is that the entire convention would have been declared in contempt of court had the proceedings taken place in the states, and Chairmen Fassett and Frey declare the strong language in condemnation of the United States courts would have been just as strong had the meeting been held in Uncle Sam's domain.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The sudden and violent break in prices during the closing hour today illustrated in its way that a market which has "discounted" in advance every possible favorable possibility is sometimes at the mercy of unexpected accidents.

The unexpected occurred today when the federal court's decision against the Standard Oil came.

The market on which the news from St. Louis came was not a market of that sort. Its greeting to the announcement therefore was a sudden and exceedingly violent break five points in Reading and 2 or 3 in other stocks. This followed on an early but not effective effort to resume the upward movement in several stocks which in its turn had been succeeded by dullness and uncertainty. The market closed a trifle above the lowest but in more or less confusion.

MAN'S HEAD ON TABLE; BODY IN SALT PICKLE

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 20.—The remains of Wm. Balesier were found today in the Tulane University dental department by the dead man's son, J. H. Balesier, a student at the university. The man had been missing for more than a year. The head was on a table and the body in a salt water vat when discovered.

KEPT PROMISE; STOLE TRICYCLE

"That ain't no bicycle, it's a tricycle, 'n' I didn't promise I wouldn't steal no tricycle," said little James Hamilton, 8 years old, to Chief of Police John B. Webber, when he was nabbed with a tricycle which he had taken possession of.

Several times before, the Hamilton boy and the chief of police have had arguments about articles which the boy has appropriated, and last time he took a bicycle, the chief extracted a promise from him that he would leave other people's bicycles alone.

The boy will be brought into county court this afternoon and will probably be committed to the industrial school.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The first half of the Chicago-Wisconsin game here today ended with a tie score of 6 to 6. The Badgers were first to score, but the Maroons came back gamely and came across with a touchdown and goal that tied it up. The game is being played with intense effort, and it is anybody's contest.

COY'S FOOT WINS FROM THE CRIMSON

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 20.—In the presence of 40,000 enthusiasts today Old Eli began the scoring in the eastern championship game with Harvard by making a safety after 20 minutes of play.

Coy punted to O'Flaherty, who fumbled, and after Harvard had lost the ball on failure to gain, the Crimson held and it was her ball on Yale's 55 yard line.

good, getting his second one over and on a fumble. After an exchange of kicks Minot punted to Yale's 20 yard line, and Murphy went in for Daly. Another punting duel kept Yale on the defensive, although Minot had the wind against him. Interference by Harvard of a fair catch cost Harvard 15 yards, and the ball was Yale's on Harvard's 55 yard line.

Coy led off with 8 yards through center, and the ball was forced to Harvard's 16 yard line when Coy narrowly missed a drop kick, and the ball was forced to Harvard's 50 yard line. Yale lost the ball on a fumble and Minot's poor attempt to punt sent the ball behind Harvard's goal, a safety for Yale.

Just before the half closed Coy kicked a field goal, score Yale, 5; Harvard, 0.

Second Half
In the second half Coy kicked a difficult field goal, and that ended the scoring, the final score being 8 to 0.

Andrus kicked off to Leslie, who was downed on Harvard's 25 yard line. Captain Fish was not in the game, having given way to Bush after receiving injuries.

Minot kicked to Philbin, who was downed on his own 45 yard line. Yale was held, but son recovered the ball, and Coy bucked the line for seven yards following a series of (Continued on page 6.)

DUEL TO DEATH AT THANKSGIVING FETE

DANVILLE, Ky., Nov. 19.—News has just reached here that John Adams and John McCormick, who have been enemies for several years, began firing at each other last night in a school house near Moreland, Ky., where Thanksgiving exercises were being held. Panic reigned. When the smoke had cleared away Adams was dead and McCormick badly wounded. Women and children jumped from the windows or crawled under the seats while the shooting was going on.

Some men can't even blame cigarettes for their failure to make good.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—There are two events on today's western football calendar that are being watched with considerable interest in all sections. These are the Minnesota and Michigan contest at Minneapolis and the Wisconsin-Chicago struggle on Marshall field.

Local interest centers in the Chicago-Wisconsin game which promises to be hard fought. Both teams claim victory and each has a creditable record.

The local game is expected to be a brilliant exhibition of open play as both Coaches Stagg and Barry are exponents of the forward pass game. The game will also be the last one of the year for both eleven and there is no object in withholding plays learn in secret. For that reason each team is expected to show its whole hand and to keep the other eleven constantly on guard against trick plays.

Only one Maroon will be out of the game—Rademacher at right tackle—while the Badgers will lose the services of Moll, their quarterback. Probable lineup:

Chicago—Ehrhorn, re; Kelley, rt; Hirschl, rg; Badenoch, c; Gerend, lg; Hoffman, lt; Sauer, lt; Page (Capt.), qb; Crawley, rbb; Rogers, lbb; Worthwine, fb.

Wisconsin—Dean, re; Osthoff, rt; Bush, rg; Arpin, c; Macmillan, lg; Boyle, lt; Fack, le; Johnson, qb; Anderson, rbb; Culver, lbb; Wilce, (Capt.), fb.

MICHIGAN AND GOPHERS CLASH

Battle This Afternoon for Western Championship; Minnesota Picked to Win

Minnesota, already Big Eight champion by virtue of its decisive victories over Chicago and Wisconsin, will engage Michigan for the all-western honors at Minneapolis today.

Michigan will go into the crucial game of the year, the combat that decides the western title, with changed team from the one that already has trodden on two strong eastern squads, Syracuse and Pennsylvania.

Wasmand, the Wolverine quarterback, is ineligible to play against the Gophers, as one of the conditions named by Minnesota when it consented to play Michigan was that Coach Yost should observe the conference eligibility rules.

Wasmand is playing his third year at Michigan. In 1905 he played right half back for Lafayette and this makes four years of football for him. The conference rules permit only three years, hence the decision against Wasmand.

The Pennsylvania game was his last intercollegiate gridiron contest, for he will not be eligible even at Michigan next year.

Coach Yost, as known of the situation concerning Wasmand for some time, and has been working to develop a substitute for him at that important position. According to present circulation, it is expected that Miller, right end, will be switched to the quarterback position, and that Pattengill will be given Miller's place at the right extremity.

To what extent, if any, this will cripple Michigan is hard to tell. But considering the loss of Johnson and McGovern from the Minnesota lineup, conditions will be nearly equal. It was reported yesterday that McGovern will start the game, but it is doubtful if he stays to the end.

The Gophers are picked to win, as they present a stronger defense than the Wolverines, while their offense is a compact, crunching engine that has not been held by any of the other western squads this year. In only one department does Michigan appear to outclass the northerners. Aljerice is a punter who has no equal in the middle west, and his ready boot undoubtedly will be frequently brought into play.

"BIG EIGHT" FAVORS MODIFIED FOOTBALL

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Dangerous football has been voted off the western gridiron map by the faculty representatives of the "Big Eight" colleges. At the annual meeting of the conference institutions yesterday the conferees unanimously disowned the present style of play and took steps toward immediate modification.

The representatives yesterday recommended no special changes in the rules, that question being left with Director Stagg of Chicago.

The following resolution was drawn up to express the sense of the conference.

Resolved, that the western intercollegiate conference recommends to the football rules committee that such modifications and changes of the rules be immediately adopted as will tend as far as possible to prevent fatalities and serious accidents.

Many believe that eastern colleges will follow the lead of the conference in the modification of the present rules.

THANKSGIVING

Is there not something manifestly
wrong in the assumption of the presdent's message that "in accordance with the custom established by our forefathers the people of the United States are wont to meet in their usual
places of worship" on Thanksgiving day?

Is it not rather true that the people are departing from that custom
and converting the day into a veritable national feast? In La Crosse for instance—and this city is a fair illustration of others in this matter—the attendance at a Thanksgiving day
service is so poor that the Protestant ministers seriously talked of one union service in a local theater.

Undoubtedly we have, as a nation,
great cause for gratitude, and probably most people who have turkey
and appetite will fill a sense of satisfaction if not of thankfulness.

President Taft calls attention to the peace and plenty, to the boundless crops and industrial production of the nation. All of which is true
in a degree unknown in any other nation of the present or any other age.

To that very solid and thoughtful minority who will on Thursday turn their thoughts towards the giver of all good there will be abundant mat-
terial for the most reverent thankfulness.
But it is not unlikely that those who possess more will be the least thankful. The scene which Burns pictures in his Cotter's Saturday night will not find its realization
at the banqueting table where the price of turkey is only considered
as the sugar trust thinks of the price
of sugar.

Possibly much good might come
of a new departure for Thanksgiving.
We would do for the President of the United States to call a convocation of law makers together at Washington to thank God for law-abiding citizens who meekly submit to their wondering and plundering—millions of people quietly content while their lands are confiscated and the nation's supply of coal, mineral or oil are de-

liberally handed over to millionaire trusts.

How would be for our governors
to call the legislators together at every state house and praise God that the people are so easily contented
with a minimum of justice if served
out with a maximum of political bluster and bluff?

Seriously, while we are thankful
for the rich endowments of nature,
for the wonderful development of all the supplies, ought we not, as a people, to take time on Thanksgiving day to calmly ask whether we are drifting. Is this great nation going forward towards grander and nobler achievements with a civilization of which the past has never dreamed or
are we tending towards the catalog
of evils which socialists tell us are coming rapidly upon us?

TRUE PUBLIC SPIRIT

The attitude of the park commissioners toward the readjustment of the city budget deserves a word of appreciation, the value of which is not so much to acquaint them with the fact that their conduct is understood and approved as it is to call attention to the example of unselfish
public spirit they have presented.

After the passage of the budget
it was found that unforeseen circumstances made imperative further retrenchments. To discuss the question of whether foresight might have obviated this, or whether different management might not have better
conserved the city's funds, is futile.
The condition exists, and there at once was heard talk of cutting down
school and park funds.

The park board had its work for the ensuing year planned. It had conserved its resources, and the achievements sought as the product of its efforts in 1910 loomed up as easily possible of consummation, owing to the thrift and management of the commissioners. Every one of these men had his heart set on accomplishing the things so carefully scheduled,
and to give up all or part meant greiv-
ous disappointment.

But notwithstanding that the reduction of their allotment to 50 per cent of that originally authorized meant the surrender of their prized
program, and the half-way doing of that which in its completeness would have been a civic triumph, these men
voluntarily took the position that, if retrenchments must be made at the expense of either the schools or the parks, it must be the parks and not the schools.

The mayor and finance committee
ought to, and probably do appreciate
this generous and public spirited conduct on the part of the park commissioners, and it may be expected that they will show their feeling by taking good care that the park board
shall be equipped fully to carry out its delayed designs in 1910. In the meantime, we shall enjoy contemplation of some real progress in park
making, for with careful management
and conservative method the commission can be depended upon to do
to the limit what the means at hand
makes possible.

THE LATEST MINE HORROR

A disaster of the extent of the Cherry mine horror is much more than a state calamity. The whole nation feels the shock of a holocaust
which consumes the lives of between 300 and 400 men without a moment's notice.

There will probably be no lack of sympathy and so far as present needs
are concerned the poor, stricken widows and children will be taken care of. The state of Illinois is well able and quite willing to assume the entire care but some people of other states will insist upon showing their humanitarian concern for the distress
which has fallen upon those poor people.

One of the redeeming features of great calamities is that they stir the hearts of all people and make us
feel something of the kinship of life
and death.

There will doubtless be a very
searching inquiry into the causes
which led to this last horror and we shall perhaps be told that there was neglect on the part of the mine owners which might have prevented the catastrophe and possibly we may learn that some of the men were not obedient to rules of the company.

And there will doubtless be new measures to provide better security
for the lives of men who take all they have and all they are down into the depths, and darkness and danger, in the service of their employers for a pittance of a livelihood. It is an important duty of our governing bodies
to see that this is done.

We cannot insist too strongly that the utmost care shall be insured that
the lives of the people are guarded no matter what the expense may be to the employing class.

When that is done we believe
workmen will be willing to be charged with their share of responsibility.
If men, through personal neglect or

BIBLE STUDIES

St. Paul's Autobiography

2 Corinthians 11:21-12:10—Nov. 21

"He said unto me, my grace is sufficient for thee, . . . made perfect in weakness."—2 Cor. 12:9.

St. Paul's brief story of his life noted in this study was written from Macedonia, A. D. 57, before the occurrences
noted in our
recent studies.
He gives us
various facts
recorded in the Book of Acts.
An opponent
might criticize recitation of
trying experiences and faith
victories and
might claim
that modesty
on the Apostle's part should have hindered such an eulogistic account of his own exploits. However, the Church at Corinth and all of God's people since have cause for thankfulness that the account was given.
It was the Apostle's defense, not merely of himself, but specially a defense of the doctrines of Christ,
which he, as the Lord's mouthpiece,
had been used to declare. In God's order he was the leader in the presentation of Christian doctrine then, as he has been since. His expositions were opposed by false teachers and pseudo apostles, as well as by
"would-be teachers."

The Apostle was thus obliged to contend with foes outside and inside
the Church and only the Divine power
seemingly could have sustained him in so unequal a contest. He had spent more than a year at Corinth,
planting the seeds of Truth and es-

reckless conduct, cause loss of property
or life they should be held for it and usually they are. It is always easier to reach a man than a corporation. For this very reason it is imperative, not only that strong measures should be taken, but that the law holds the heads of corporations
as individuals, who are personally responsible for the neglect of their managers.

There was a great cheer at the theater last night when Burr McIntosh, who was a hit as "Senator Langdon" in "The Gentleman from Mississippi," in a curtain speech, paid a tribute to Senator La Follette's fearless stand in opposition to monopoly.
Even the applause for President Taft,
when the chief executive was mentioned, was a mere splutter of hand-
clapping in comparison.

At Winona, the previous day, when called upon for a curtain speech, Mc-Intosh came forward and said:

"I don't know anything about making a speech in Winona. I understand the last fellow who made a speech here is sorry."

And then everybody clapped their hands at the incidental mention of the name of Senator Clapp.

How John Strange would appreciate circumstances which, in the
"morning after," would justify him
in calling them Alphonse Morris and Gaston McGovern.

We believe the optimism of the solicitation committee of the industrial corporation is fully justified by the outlook.

a morning train. He declines to talk
for publication.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case With Many La
Crosse People

Too many La Crosse citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility.
The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt La Crosse evidence?

William P. Delphenick, mechanic, 1718 Badger street, La Crosse, Wis., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity as I know that they are a safe cure for kidney trouble. About three years ago my back gave out and from morning until night I suffered from a dull ache
through my kidneys. Someone finally told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills
and I did so, procuring a supply at Erhart & Son's drug store. This remedy lived up to representations and entirely relieved me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,
New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—
and take no other.

The Awakening

'Twas 6 o'clock on a frosty morn
When he tiptoed into his wife's boudoir
And touched her shoulder and cried:
"Get up!"

I've been ready for breakfast since half past four!"

She opened her eyes with a startled
jump

And saw him standing beside her
there;

Straightway she shrieked and screamed in rage.

And madly tore at her hair!

"This settles it all!" she exclaimed.

"I go
Straight home to my mother this very day!"

"But, love," he began, "Not a word!"

she said;

"I know, but pet," he started to say—

And she broke right in with another scream

And another shriek, and tore her
hair;

"You've cost me seventeen cents!"
she cried.

"By calling me out of my sleep,
so there!"

He shut his mouth—that's the thing
men do

When they see that the game's not going their way!"

But after awhile he mustered nerve
To ask her to explain, and he heard
her say:

"I dreamt that I went to Stickum-Swift's

And bought some muslin and crepe
de chine—

And some remnant stuff from the ribbon girl.

And a couple of yards of mousse-
line—

"And then I dreamt that Givnum Away

Was handing out soap with the self-same stuff.

And I was returning the things I'd bought.

And had figured that of soap I'd have enough

To last five weeks—which is seventeen cents—

And then—boohoo—I was on the run

To Givnum Away—boohoo—and you came

And woke me up—boohoo!" 'Twas done!

patch.

One of the Heathen

A missionary came down to take the Sunday services at the church of Giggleswick-in-Craven. On behalf of the foreign heathen a collection was taken up. One of the wardens offered the box to a certain member of the congregation who did not believe in foreign missions. In a stage whisper, heard alike by congregation
and pastor, this man said in blank
vernacular, "Tak 'it awa', lad, I'm not going to give owt."

At that period the collection boxes
were taken direct into the vestry.
Down came he preacher from the pulpit, went into the vestry, brought out
one of the boxes, and marched straight toward the gentleman, all
the congregation imagining that the minister was going to shame the un-believer into giving something. Nothing of the kind. The clergyman
merely offered the box to the heretic
with the naive remark, "Tak' what thou wantest, lad; it has been gathered for the heathen!"—Church Family Newspaper.

Sprouting Up

"Don't you think, Mary, you are too old to play with the boys?"

"No mamma, the older I get, the better I like them."—Judge.

A Palpable Hit

The late Thomas Bone, "the sailors' missionary," was the soul of kindness, but he had been a keen wit, and a ready tongue, too. An instance, given in his recently published life, is the following:
"Seeing him approaching one day,
one of a group of sailors announced his intention of having some fun. He stepped forward and removing his hat, revealing a perfectly smooth
crown, and asked:
"Can you tell me why my head is
so bald, while all my companions
have plenty of hair?"
"I don't know," was the smiling
reply, "unless the reason given me
the other day by a farmer would apply—that an empty barn is not worth
thatching."—Tit-Bits.

Not the same Joshua

"We had a county judge down my way a few years ago whose love for Biblical lore was so pronounced that he couldn't resist the desire to air it
on every possible occasion," said Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, a few days since. "One day an old dorky was brought in
from the mountain district under suspicion of maintaining an illicit still.
There was no real evidence against him."
"What's your name, prisoner?"
asked the judge as he peered at the shambling black man.
"Mah name's Joshua, judge," was the reply.
"Joshua, eh?" said the judge, as he rubbed his hands. "Joshua, you say? Are you that same Joshua spoken of in Holy Writ—the same Joshua who made the sun stand still?"
"No, judge," was the hasty answer, "twarn't me. Ah'm de Joshua dat made de moon shine."—

BY MEREDITH NICHOLSON.
COPYRIGHT 1909

It is thus that a man with any imagination feels first about a woman who begins to interest him—that there was never any beginning to their acquaintance that can be reckoned as time and experience are measured, but that he has known her for countless years; and if there be a poetic vein in him, he will indulge
in such fancies as that he has seen her as a priestess of Aphrodite in the long ago, dreaming upon the temple
steps; or that he has watched her skipping pebbles upon the violet storied sea against a hazy background
of cities long crumbled into dust.
Such fancies as these are a part of love's gentle madness, and luckier
than she knows is the girl who awak-
ens in a lover this eager idealization. If he can turn a verse for her in which she is added to the sacred Nine, personifying all sweet, gentle
and gracious things, so much the better.

Just what he, on the other hand,
may mean to her; just what form
of defilement he evokes in her,
he can never know; for the women
who write of such matters have never been those who are sincere or worth heeding, and they never will be, so long as woman's heart remains what it has been from the beginning—far-hidden, and filled with incommunicable
secret beliefs and longings, and tremulous with fears that are beyond
man's power to understand.

Griswold had missed the white rose that he had begun to associate with Barbara, and he grew suddenly daring and spoke of it.

"You haven't your rose today."

"Oh, I'm beyond the source of supply! I have a young friend, a girl, who makes her living as a florist—
not a purely commercial enterprise,
for she experiments and develops new
varieties, and is quite wonderful;
and that white rose is her own creation—it is becoming well known. She named it for me, and she sends me at least one every day—she says it's my royalty—if that's what you lawyers call that sort of thing."

"We lawyers rarely have anything so interesting as that to apply
the word to. So that rose is the Barbara?" and it gave him a feeling of recklessness to find himself speaking
her name aloud. "There are large conservatories on the estate, over there somewhere. I might risk the scarlet fever by attacking the gardener and demanding a Barbara for you."

"I'm afraid my little flower hasn't attained to the grandeur of Ardsley," she laughed. "But pray, where are we?"

They had reached the highroad
much sooner than Griswold had expected, and he checked his horse abruptly, remembering that he was persona non grata on this soil.

"We must go back; I mustn't be seen here. The workmen are scattered all about the place, and they all know me."

"Oh, just a little farther! I want to see the towers of the castle!"

If she had asked him to jump into the sea he would not have hesitated;
and he was so happy at being with her that his heart sang defiance to Ardsley and the splendors of Ardsley.

They were riding now toward the red bungalow, where he had often sprawled on the broad benches and chatted with Ardsley for hours at a time. Tea was served here sometimes when there were guests at the house;
and Griswold wondered just who were included in the party that his quondam friend was entertaining,
and how Mrs. Atchison was progressing in her efforts to effect a match
between Daisy Waters and her brother.

The drives were nearly all open to the public, so that by the letter of the law he was no intruder; but beyond the bungalow he must not go.

Sobered by the thought of his breach with Ardsley, he resolved not to pass the bungalow whose red roof
was now in sight.

"It's like a fairy place, and I feel that there can be no end of it," Barbara was saying. "But it isn't kind to urge you in. We certainly are doing nothing to find Appleweight, and it must be nearly noon."

It was just then—she vividly recalls the moment—as Griswold felt in his waistcoat for his watch, that Miss Jerry Dangerfield, with Thomas Ardsley at her side, galloped into view. They were racing
madly, like irresponsible children,
and bore boisterously down upon the
two pilgrims.

Jerry and Ardsley, hatless and warm, were pardonably indignant at
thus being arrested in their flight,
and the master of Ardsley, feeling
for once the dignity of his proprietor-
ship, broke out stormily.

"I would have you know—I would have you know—" he roared, and then his voice failed him. He stared;
he spluttered; he busied himself
with his horse, which was dancing in eagerness to resume the race. He quieted the beast, which nevertheless arched and pawed like a war-
horse, and then the master of Ards-
ley bawled:

"Grissy! I say, Grissy!"

Miss Osborne and Professor Griswold, on their drooping Mingo County nondescripts, made a tame picture
before Ardsley and his fair companion on their Ardsley hunters. The daughter of the governor of South Carolina looked upon the daughter of the governor of North Carolina with high disdain, and it need hardly be said that this feeling as expressed by glacial glances, was evenly reciprocal, and that in the contemptuous upward tilt of two charming chins the nicest judgment would have been necessary to any fair opinion as to which
state had the better argument.

The associate professor of admiralty was known as a ready debater,
and he quickly returned his former friend's salutation, and in much the contumelious tone he would have used in withering an adversary before
a jury.

"Pardon me, but are you one of the employes here?"

"Why, Grissy, old man, don't look at me like that! How did you—?"

"I owe your master an apology for riding upon his property at a time
when pestilence is giving you cause
for so much concern. The deathrate
from scarlet fever is deplorably
high—"

"Oh, Grissy!" cried Ardsley.

"You have addressed me familiarly
by a nickname sometimes used by intimate friends, though I can't for the life of me recall you. I want you to know that I am here in an

Pursuant to the general demand of the United Switchmen of America for a raise in wages and a general revision of the working schedules of the men, officials representing the general managers' association of American railroads met yesterday afternoon at St. Paul to seriously consider the matter.

The outcome of the meeting is expected to be made public some time today.

The evening was delightfully spent in playing games and many beautiful presents were given. Nordness and Mr. Willie Lange.

LAST RAFT IS CAUGHT IN ICE

Charles Lumley of this city, who has been employed as engineer on the rafting boat, Zalus Davis, during the past season, returned home for the winter yesterday, the season having closed. The boat has been lying between St. Paul and Wabasha and reports a successful season.

The last raft which the boat brought down, was caught in the cold spell the earlier part of the week and frozen in at the Red Wing harbor.

NEW STAMP SELLER ON MARKET HERE

J. E. Birdsfield of this city, formerly employed at the works of the Vote-Berger company, is the inventor and patentee of a stamp vending machine, which promises to revolutionize the method of selling postage stamps in the United States.

Mr. Birdsfield's first machine made its appearance today and has been placed on the counter of the H. Schaller Drug store, corner Main and Fifth streets. The machine differs from other stamp vending machines which have been in the market, in that all of the working parts are visible within its glass case and it throws out the stamps in a gum capsule which is convenient for carrying the stamps in the pocket.

A five cent piece inserted in the slot does the work. There are no levers to push, and there is no danger of losing the coin when the machine is empty as this condition would be plainly visible. Four one cent stamps or two two cent stamps are sold for five cents, leaving the owner of the machine a cent profit on every transaction. As the average business man would not bother about the penny even if buying the stamps over the counter, the profits of the machine in a few years time can be imagined.

Mr. Birdsfield is having his machines manufactured in this city at the La Crosse Stamping and Tool company.

HEALTH AND THE CHURCH IS TOPIC

At this time and for the past few years the question of the mind as related to the health of the body has received much attention from millions of people. And the tendency naturally has been and is to embody the different views into different creeds hence the many non-medicine healing systems, as Christian Science, Faith healing, etc. But the orthodox churches also are emphasizing the relation the church sustains to the body.

Charcoal The Great Absorbent

Absorbs and Removes Stomach and Intestinal Gases and Makes The Breath Pure

The able researches of Dr. Stenhouse, published about the middle of the last century, excited considerable interest in charcoal and its wonderful absorbing powers. His experiments were directed to the deodorizing, as well as the absorbing qualities of charcoal, and he succeeded in proving beyond all question or doubt, that its properties of destroying the offensive odors of putrid vegetable and animal matter, depended, not alone, upon its antiseptic power, as had been generally supposed theretofore, but also on its quality of absorbing and oxidizing effluvia or noxious exhalations from the putrefying matters.

Many other noted physicians have since that time investigated this absorbent and oxidizing action, and one of them, Dr. Hunter, has also published an account of his experiments, showing the relative amount of the various gases taken up by the different kinds of charcoal.

Both Stenhouse and Hunter experimented with charcoal made from poplar, boxwood, coconut shells, willow wood, and various other woods, and they found that charcoal made from willow wood possessed by far the most power of absorbing, deodorizing, oxidizing and destroying foul gases. It may be added here that animal charcoal, which is employed so extensively as a deodorizing agent, is very inferior to wood charcoal as an absorbent and deodorant.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are easy to these lozenges renders them so finest willow wood, the very best of all woods that can be used for this purpose. The addition of pure honey to these lozenges renders them so palatable that no one can possibly object to their taste.

When they are taken into the stomach they do not lie inert and inactive, but get busy at once in the good work of absorbing and oxidizing all foul gases, destroying disease germs, preventing the further formation of gases, stopping fermentation, flatulence and decomposition of food, and cleansing the stomach walls of catarrhal mucus.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are introduced into the system by being allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, where their cleansing action begins, rendering the breath pure and sweet, destroying any germs existing in the mouth, and removing tartar from the teeth.

Call up your druggist over the phone, and ask him his opinion of the power of charcoal as a stomach cleanser, gas absorbent and breath purifier; then request him to send you a box of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges for 25 cents. Also send us your name and address, and we will send you a trial sample free of charge. Address F. A. Stuart Company, 200 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

INTEREST INTENSE IN SPARTA GAME

La Crosse Squad Is Going Through Stiffest Practice of the Year This Week

Despite the unfavorable weather of the past few days the La Crosse high school football squad has been put through harder work than ever before and as every man is in good condition it looks now as though La Crosse has the best chances in the big Sparta game to be played at League park next Thursday afternoon. Six new trick plays have been worked out by Coach Roseff.

Sparta was defeated by the Wabasha team early in the season and La Crosse beat the Wabasha boys last Saturday by an overwhelming score. Since then, however, Sparta has learned several new plays, they have had several coaches, and two of the best men have returned to the game. Sparta is now as confident of defeating La Crosse as they have ever been before.

Big Football Day.
Thanksgiving day in La Crosse will be all football.
To add to the spirit of the day a full brass band will furnish music at the grounds on this afternoon. George Gordon has promised Coach Doseff that he will hire the band. It is also expected that the Sparta band will accompany the visiting team.

According to the decision rendered in the weekly meeting of the Wendell Phillips Debating society of the high school, federal banks should not be introduced into the United States. Withrow and Sorgel upheld the affirmative, and Krause and Schriver the winning negative.

VOLCANO STILL TERRIBLE

MADRID, Nov. 20.—Advices from Tenerife today say that the volcanic eruption which caused a panic throughout the island, yesterday broke out with increased violence again today. The disturbance subsided after the violent outbreak yesterday morning and it was thought the worst was over.

evidence, more than 25,000 pages in all. In addition there are 1,500 exhibits, mostly contracts.

The case was urged beginning April 5, before the full circuit bench here, Judges Walter H. Sanborn, Willis Vandewater, William C. Hook and Elmer B. Adams.

The Opposing Counsel
Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul and Chas. B. Morrison of Chicago presented the argument for the government. They were appointed special assistants to the attorney general during the case. Other attorneys representing the government were Frank H. Pool, J. H. Graves of the department of justice and W. H. Wiggins of Minneapolis, and C. A. Severance of New York.

The attorneys for the Standard were headed by Moritz Rosenthal, the thousand dollar a day attorney. Others representing the company in the final argument were John G. Milburn of Chicago, John G. Johnson, Philadelphia; W. F. Taylor, New York; H. C. Fogler, Frank L. Crawford, Douglass Campbell, George Jones and George P. Alt of New Jersey was formed.

Put Up Stubborn Fight
A stubborn fight against the government charges was begun at once by the Standard. The power of the government to subpoena individuals and corporations outside the St. Louis district into the federal court here and compel them to face the charges was at first denied. The contention was argued at length, but was overruled and the services of the processes held legal.

The defendants then filed answers to the government's allegations and the case was set for trial.

To facilitate the hearings of the case, Judge Franklin Ferris of St. Louis was appointed special examiner to hear the evidence. He was appointed June 25, 1907, and completed his work in February, 1909. Hearings were held in most of the principal cities of the United States, the most noted being that in New York, where John D. Rockefeller, Henry H. Rogers, John D. Archbold and other officers of the company were called, and were put through a grueling cross-examination by the government attorneys.

The evidence, when completed, was printed and forwarded to St. Louis, where it was filed with the clerk of the court.

COMMENT ON THE STANDARD OIL CASE

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Beyond asserting that the decision will be appealed to the supreme court of the United States, the officials of the Standard Oil Company in this city refused to discuss the action of the St. Louis court.

DIXON, Ill., Nov. 20.—Charles B. Morrison, associate counsel for the government in the Standard Oil dissolution case, was elated today when told by the United Press that the case had been decided in favor of the government.

"The decision speaks for itself," he said, "and I do not care to comment on it at this time."

The four circuit judges who decided the case are also the judges of the United States circuit court of appeals, so that in a way the circuit court's decision is also the appellate court's decision.

Frank B. Kellogg, chief counsel for the government in the case conferred with Morrison regarding the case in Chicago yesterday and returned to St. Paul last night.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 20.—News of the decision reached Forrest Hill through a message from the United Press.

"Mr. Rockefeller had not heard of it," his secretary said. "He will decline to make any statement."

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Standard Oil stock closed at 68 1/2, a drop of 17 points from last night's close. There was a general selling movement through the entire list in the market following the announcement of the decision. The entire list eased off from 1 to 5 points and the market closed weak and unsettled.

ASTORS PROBABLY IN WATERY GRAVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—With a British cruiser the Scylla, joining in the search for Col. John Jacob Astor's missing yacht Nourmahal and with every wireless station in the West Indies, Mexico and Central America authorized to use every effort to locate the vessel, the search today became an international one. Wireless messages flashing from island to island in the West Indies, across the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea while every wireless equipped vessel which can be reached in southern waters has been ordered to look for the yacht. In spite of this the Nourmahal cannot be located and friends of Col. Astor and his son Vincent as well as those who make up the party of guests on the yacht are at last admitting that the situation is serious.

NICARAGUA IS IN A HELPLESS CONDITION

Intervention May Become Necessary at Any Hour;
Frightful Outrages on Her Own Citizens

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—The brutal execution with barbarous savagery of the two Americans, Cannon and Grace, is fully confirmed.

Under President Zelaya the condition of things in Nicaragua beggars description. The country is financially a wreck and the best citizens are barbarously used. It is stated on good authority that 14,000 of the most prominent men are in jails fastened with heavy chains to their ankles. The American flag has been insulted and conditions are fast ripening that may make intervention necessary.

An appeal dated Nov. 19 directed to Secretary Knox has just been received, which says:

"Despotism of Zelaya atrocious. Country turned into jail, Managua a den of horrors, where thousands of citizens are tortured within an inch of their lives."

Short gains through Harvard's line. Coy then made his fourth attempt at a field goal, and although the angle was a desperate one, he made good, betting his second one over and making six points due to his foot out of the total of eight made during the game. This ended the scoring. The game showed remarkably even strength, Coy being the factor that decided the game for Yale.

WOLVERINES AND GOPHERS DO BATTLE

McGovern dropped back for a drop kick but the ball was blocked and went wild.

Michigan took the ball on her 25 yard line and Allerdice kicked out of bounds to Minnesota's 42 yard line. NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

It is high time that the oft repeated claim that—"chronic baldness can be cured" be filed away with the old announcement that the moon is made of green cheese. The claim is untrue, and aside from this it induces many people to ignore the chances they have to prevent baldness. The greatest stride toward the ultimate elimination of baldness was the discovery by Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany (ask your doctor about him), that most hair loss is due to an invisible growth, of vegetable character, in the scalp—literally a "dandruff germ," producing a highly contagious disease. The greatest stride toward the prevention of baldness was the recent discovery of a prophylactic fluid called NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, which, if intelligently used—will destroy the dandruff germ and prevent baldness.

Herpicide is the original dandruff germ destroyer and its extraordinary success—for dandruff and falling hair, also dull, brittle and lustreless hair—has brought out many imitations. Even the old line hair "growers" and hair "tonics" now claim to kill the dandruff germ. Quite a tribute to Herpicide, isn't it? An exquisite hair dressing. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. Don't wait; try it now.

Send 10 cents in stamps to THE HERPICIDE COMPANY, Dept. L, Detroit, Mich., for sample and booklet. One Dollar Bottles Guaranteed. At Drug Stores. When you call for HERPICIDE, do not accept a substitute. Applications at prominent Barber Shops. See window display at HOESCHLER BROS., Special Agents.

CUTICURA CURED CHIEF OF POLICE

Canadian Officer Poisoned by Weeds—Eczema Developed and Legs Became Scaly—Ankles Were Very Sore and Itchy—For Weeks He Could Not Wear Shoes.

FREED FROM ITCHING BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been successfully cured of dry eczema. I was inspecting the removal of noxious weeds, it being part of my duty, from the edge of a river and was constantly in the dust from the weeds. At night I took out my trousers and cleansed my limbs, but felt a prickly sensation. I paid no attention to it for two years, but I noticed a scum on my legs like fish scales. I could scrape it off, and yet I did not attend to it until it came to be too itchy and sore and began getting two running sores. My ankles were all sore and scabby and I could not wear shoes. I had to use carpet and felt slippers for weeks. I was then on particular police duty and was compelled to be on duty. I got a cake of the Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment. In less than ten days I could put on my boots and in less than three weeks, though on duty all the time, I was free from the confounded itching. I tell you frankly that Cuticura saved me from what the doctors called a bad leg. (Capt. George P. Bliss, Chief of Police, Morris, Manitoba, Mar. 20, 1907, and Sept. 24, 1908.)"

TEMPERAMENTS DON'T HIT; DIVORCE NEXT

Mrs. Henry Clews, Jr., Who Was Formerly Mrs. Frederick Gebhardt, NEW YORK.—A clash of temperaments! This is the reason given for the separation of Henry Clews, Jr.,

and his wife, who was formerly Mrs. Frederick Gebhardt. A cable just received told that Mr. Clews, having a studio in Paris, in the Rue de la Pompe, would come for dinner at his home, 2 bis Villa Said, Bois de Boulogne, in an artist's smock, painter's colors and sculptor's clay upon it. This had horrified Mrs. Clews, entertaining guests in formal regalia.

It's awfully hard to give away some things that you want to get rid of.

ly revealed in symbols to St. John at Patmos and delivered to the Church in symbols which could not be solved until the due time. In view of these things he could well write, "I certify you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me is not after man; for I neither received it of man, nor was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ."—Gal. 1:11, 12.

The third test, namely, his sanctity, is everywhere manifest in his writings. He preached not for filthy lucre, nor for worldly applause nor for the honor of men—not even for honor from the Church. He declared, "I will very gladly spend and be spent for you, though the more abundantly I love you the less I be loved." And again he says, what his life affirmed, "I seek not yours but you."

His "thorn in the flesh," probably weakness of the eyes, resulting from his experiences with the great light, enroute to Damascus, seems to have marred his personal appearance and, for the sake of the cause, to have justified him in praying to the Lord for relief and thereby a wider influence. His prayer was answered, but not as he had expected. The Lord declared that he would give him compensating grace, declaring, "My grace is sufficient for thee; my strength is made perfect in weakness." The Apostle assures us that he most heartily acceded to this proposition, saying, "Most gladly therefore, will I suffer, that the grace of God may abound towards me."

What a wonderful lesson we have in St. Paul's experiences and how justly he wrote that we should follow him, as he followed the Lord Jesus.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of the bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures.

SPOTLIGHTS

MONTE CARLO GIRLS

Among the attractions engaged to appear at the La Crosse theater, tonight is that famous company of fun makers and beauty chorus the Monte Carlo Girls with everything new. No expense has been spared to make this the best on the road. All the latest New York song hits, many splendid dancing girls in bright, glistening costumes, and two new opening and closing burlesques. The first is entitled "The Merry Madcaps" in which everyone has a chance to do his or her best and the closer namely "Too Many Husbands" is, as its name implies a hummer. In both of these "Lew Golden" that funny Hebrew has lots of chance in which to show his talents in making fun, of which he takes full advantage; also another old time favorite "Mime-Le-Belle" who is known from the east to the west for beautiful and sensational dancing numbers.

THE GREAT COUNSEL

With the brilliant array of talent for next week the patrons of the Bijou can be assured of a high-class entertainment. Heading the bill will be Woodford's Educated Animals including the "near-man monkey," "Counsel the Second." This monkey is highly educated and does everything a man does but talk.

It will be remembered a few months ago the educated monkey was the talk of the largest cities and was quite an attraction and drawing card. It is wonderful the great intelligence this little animal displays.

The Bobert Duo, combine singing and dancing with novelty musical numbers. This team is said to be far above the average.

Direct from the east on their way to the coast are Grace McNeil and sister, the "Smart Set" summer girls. If press notices from cities where these young ladies appeared count for anything they will certainly prove a sister team long to be remembered.

Tom Dugan, "The Eccentric A. D. T." has a "line" of talk that is second to none and has his own peculiar way of delivery that wins him many friends.

DAKOTA, MINN.

Mrs. Hannah Helsapple and son George and brother, Mr. Charlie Cordes of Montana, are visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cordes.

The Ladies' guild met with Mrs. James Wilkinson. A large attendance was reported.

Mrs. Frank Hatch and sister Winifred of Pickwick visited in town Sunday.

Messrs. Jacob Cewe, Jr., and Herbert Murray returned home Thursday evening from a visit with friends and relatives in Illinois.

The funeral of Mrs. J. Tessing of Nodine was held at the Catholic church Wednesday morning and interment was made at the Catholic cemetery.

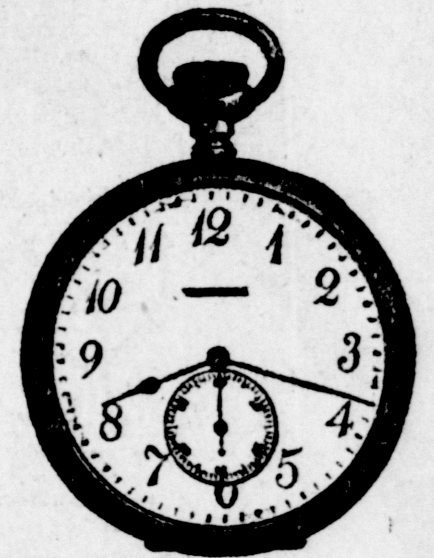

Mrs. Jessie Stryker of Minneapolis is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Worman.

BROTHERHOOD TO CONDUCT SERVICES

The West Avenue Brotherhood will lead the evening services at the West Avenue Methodist church Sunday, November 28th. The department officers will conduct the service upon the theme, "If I had my Way." Special music will be rendered by the Brotherhood Glee club.

The Physical Culture department of the Brotherhood will shortly demonstrate their capabilities along utilitarian lines by laying a new hardwood floor in the lecture room of the church. The Fellowship department have arranged to undertake the study and presentation of live themes for discussion at ensuing meetings.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, when goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old-time remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equal to our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs to make the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

At the seaside they are packed, solid, into air-tight containers and then SEALED. The ice is on the OUTSIDE of the containers. The containers are in patent Sealshipts.

Handled in this way, they retain all the freshness and flavor of oysters just taken from the beds. They are all solid meat—not a drop of water has ever been added—no ice has ever touched them.

These are good reasons why

Sealshipt Oysters are so much better than common oysters which are shipped in open wooden tubs with chunks of ice sloshing around.

TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

Establishing believers there, while encouraging other little groups of the Lord's people in various quarters by messages and epistles. The work flourished and the Adversary was permitted of the Lord to stir up opposition both external and internal. Internally false brethren had made various charges against St. Paul. They opposed some of his teachings. They denied that he was an Apostle any more than themselves. They urged that he erred in teaching that circumcision was unnecessary to the Gentiles; that his teachings were not fixed and consistent (2 Cor. 1:17); that he was given to self-commendation (2 Cor. 3:1; 5:12; 10:8); that he assumed authority to which he was not entitled.—2 Cor. 10:4.

They charged that he was unpatriotic and had fallen away from the faith (2 Cor. 11:22); that he was not Christ's servant at all (2 Cor. 10:1; 11:23); that he had falsely assumed to be one of the ambassadors of Christ (2 Cor. 11:5; 12:11); that he could show no proofs of his claimed apostleship; that unlike the twelve he had never known Christ personally; that his witness was second-hand and not direct, like that of the others.

It does not surprise us to learn that these false teachers confused the Church at Corinth and that splits, factions, sects, parties, resulted—

some saying, I am of Paul; others, I am of Apollos; others, I am for Peter, etc. They reproached St. Paul for having worked at his trade and received gifts from Macedonia (2 Cor. 11:2-10), claiming that he should have urged his needs upon the Corinthians. They insinuated that the collections taken for the poor at Jerusalem were probably in part, at least, for himself. (2 Cor. 12:16.) They even asked if it were certain that he was a Hebrew at all—of pure blood—if he were not a Gentile in whole or in part. (2 Cor. 11:22.)

These wicked arrows, even bitter words, must have wounded deeply, painfully, one so sensitive as the Apostle, especially as they came from erstwhile friends, for whom he had been willing to suffer the loss of all things. But this second epistle to the Corinthians was not written, we may be sure, in self-defense merely, but chiefly in the defense of the Truth, because of he were personally discredited the truths which he represented and the Lord himself and his glorious plan would be proportionately discredited.

St. Paul was not alone in these perils from false brethren and the world. In the past Socrates, Calvin, Wesley, Washington, Savonarola, Lincoln, Grant, all of them had their traducers, slanderers, vilifiers. Bishop Phillips Brooks in recent years had severe experiences along this line which led him to write these lines respecting himself:

"And this is then the way he looks, This tiresome creature, Phillips

Brooks?
No wonder if 'tis thus he looks, The Church has doubts of Phillips Brooks!
Well, if he knows himself, he'll try To give those doubtful looks the lie. He dares not promise, but will seek Even as a bishop to be meek;

"To walk the way he shall be shown, To trust a strength that's not his own, To fill the years with honest work, To serve his day and not to shirk; To quite forget what folks have said, To keep his heart and keep his head, Until men, laying him to rest, Shall say, 'At least he did his best.'"

St. Paul's Three Proofs
Studying in the light of the foregoing we may divide the Apostle's defense in his second epistle to the Corinthians into three divisions:

(1) The sufferings which he endured in connection with preaching the Truth demonstrated his love for it; his love for the Lord, and his love for such of mankind as might have the hearing ear.

(2) The proof of his apostleship in the visions granted to him, the communion with God and his deep insight into spiritual truths and the fact that the Lord had specially commissioned him to declare his name at Jerusalem and to the Gentiles. This, indeed, in conjunction with his having seen the Lord "as one born before the time," constituted the chief evidence of his apostleship, in conjunction with the service which he was permitted to render to the Lord's cause under that commission.

(3) Finally his further proof—he was still a minister of the Lord and of his message to such as had the hearing ear.

Under the first count St. Paul enumerates his faithfulness, saying, "Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? So am I. Are they servants of Christ? I serve more;" for I have ministered or served more than they, in larger fields; in labors more abundant; in stripes above measure—received at the hands of Gentiles, the Jewish measure being forty blows. In prisons he was more frequent; exposed to death more often; flogged to the limit (thirty-nine blows) by the Jews; five times beaten with rods; stoned; shipwrecked; a day and a night in the deep on wreckage; in journeyings often; in perils many from floods, from robbers; from the heathen; from his fellow-countrymen in the city; and in the wilds; on the sea and amongst false brethren. The weariness and painfulness of her service; his watching, hungering and thirsting fastings, cold and deprivations he had experienced more than any of the other Apostles. Furthermore in God's providence the care of all the Churches had been his pleasurable and weighty responsibility. All these things demonstrated his supreme love for God, for his neighbor, for his brethren, to a degree unequalled.

Under the second count he had seen the Lord as a spirit-being in the brightness above the sun at noon day, and in advance of the remainder of the Church. What the other apostles saw of our Lord during the forty days of his appearance as a man after his resurrection would not compare in importance to the witness of our Lord's resurrection which St. Paul had seen. Besides this he had most astounding vision or revelation in which he was "caught away to the third heaven" and saw things he was not authorized to explain.

The third heaven is the new heaven of the future—the Millennium age. The first "heaven and earth," or primary arrangement, passed away at the flood. The second "heaven and earth organization, beginning at the flood, still persists. The third "heaven and earth," or new dispensation, is the one to come—the one which will be introduced at Messiah's Second Advent. In other words, St. Paul in vision was caught away and given a glimpse of the Millennial Kingdom conditions, glories, blessings, etc.—things not proper at the time to be generally disclosed. Nevertheless that vision assisted the Apostle to a clearness of mental grasp of the Divine purposes, and shaped and colored all of his epistles.

And now, "in due time," St. Paul's writings constitute the key to the Divine Plan of the Ages. He saw more literally the things subsequent

"DOC", HE WENT ON A DEER HUNT

He Didn't Stay Long, Says a Man from the Woods, where Genial Dentist Went

SOMETHING HAPPENED TO HIM

He Donned So Many Socks the Natives were Badly Shocked, Then He Returned

WITHEE, Wis., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Dr. E. A. Gatterdam, a La Crosse physician, said to be famed as a Nimrod in his home town, arrived here from La Crosse at 7:45 p. m. with the avowed determination of exterminating all the deer in the wilds of northern Wisconsin. Speaking to your correspondent, his guide and liveryman said:

"Mr. Gatterdam spent the night at the hotel here, but was unable to sleep on account of 'buck fever,' a disease which is very prevalent here at this time of year.

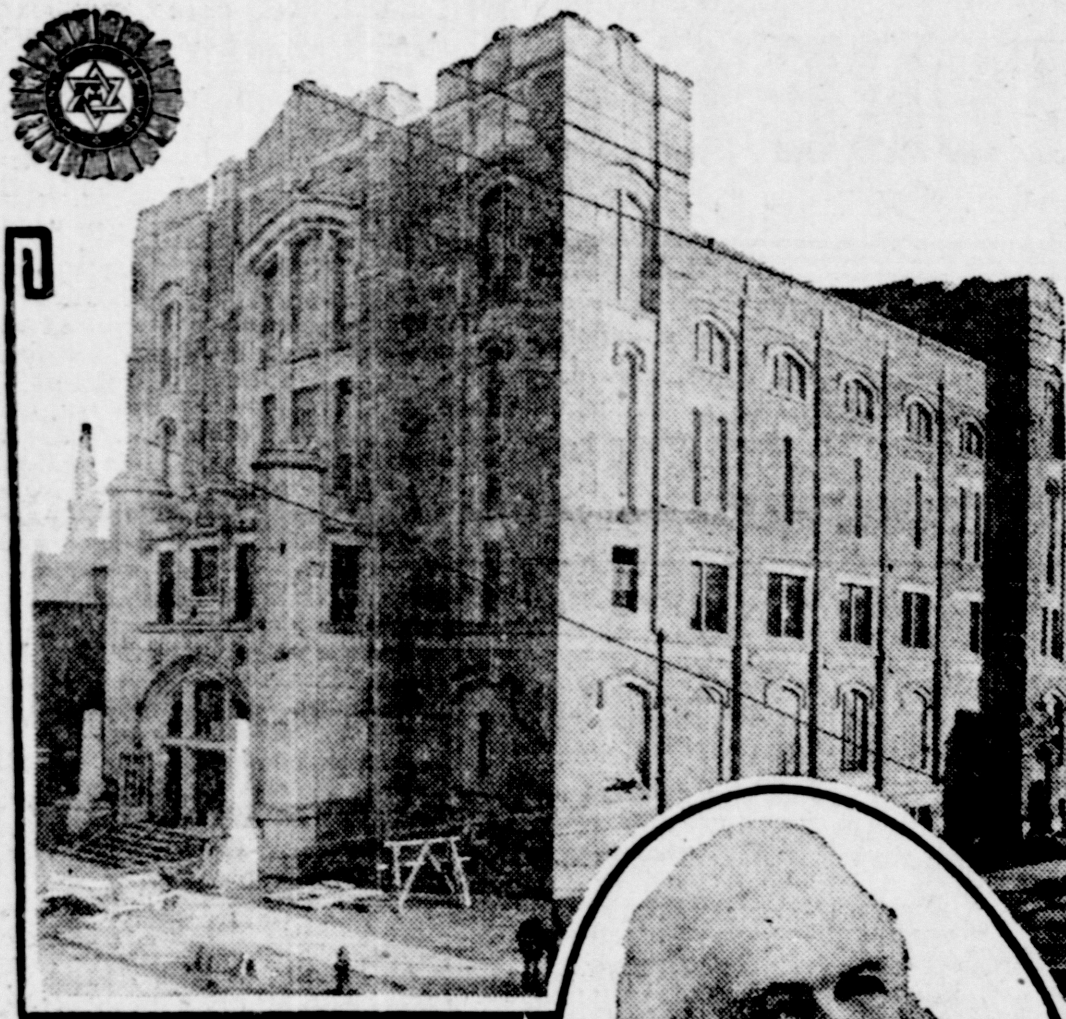

"He sent to the depot for his grip checked there, and when he opened it there were sights such as seldom meet the gaze of a hardened woodsman. From recesses of the all-contaminated bag, he drew forth pillows and pillow cases, fine sheets and blankets, towels, and lastly a dainty nightshirt such an outfit of folks in this section of the continent have never seen since they left the settlements.

"Still that 'buck fever' persisted so the doctor was forced to be an early riser. He again had recourse to his grip and we watched him carefully don six pairs of heavy socks one over the other, and lastly a huge pair of lumberman's heavy over shoes.

"With his trusty rifle on his shoulder, and several hundred rounds of ammunition, he made his appearance after eating a light breakfast and paid down $2.50 for a rig to take him to the deer.

"The top buggy drove out of the hotel yard, and according to the driver, they went three miles into the country, returning in time to catch a 10:15 a. m. train home. The driver declares the doctor never fired a shot.

"We found out who the great hunter was, after he had gone. He was indiscreet enough to leave his card with a party here. If I had known who he was I would have found out what his hurry was to get back to La Crosse, as I understand now that he is not a physician, but a dentist, and I did not know that their calls were so urgent as to require such immediate attention. He was in town less than thirteen hours and most of that time was night. "Now don't give this away, but it is a fact, I never before in my life saw a man put on so many socks."

8% Stock and 4% Convertible Bonds of American Telephone and Telegraph Company

The most astonishing growth of the Bell Telephone system dates from the uniting of the various operating Bell companies in the United States and Canada, in 1900, under the majority stock ownership and virtual control of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. Since 1885 this Company has owned and operated the long distance and toll lines which connected the Bell companies. In 1900 it acquired these companies themselves, since when the number of telephone connections to the system have multiplied over seven times—numbering, Jan. 1, 1909, 4,364,629. This astounding growth is equally a testimonial to the convenience and indispensability of the service and the skilful and resourceful management of the Company.

The Dependable Character of Both the Stock and the Bonds

as an investment is further indicated by these facts:—Even during the acute business depression of 1908, the number of telephones added to the Bell system increased 17%. Not less than 73% dividends have been paid in any one of the past 27 years—8% for the past 3 years. In no single year since it acquired the Bell companies, has the Company earned less than three times its fixed charges. The policy of issuing new stock to its stockholders at par, so valuable in the past, promises even greater future value. We recommend these securities for investment and solicit orders for their purchase. Small orders given equal attention with larger.

Write for complete descriptive circular. Correspondence invited.

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

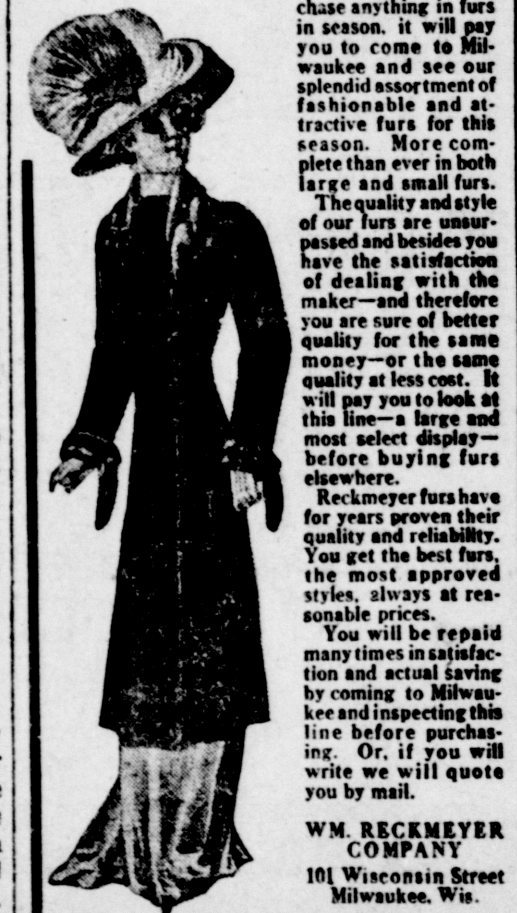

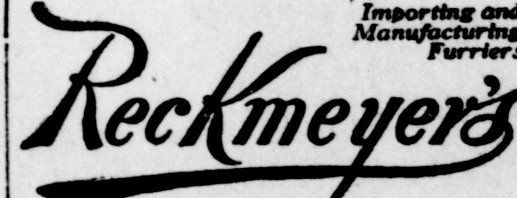

Given Away.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

KOEHLER-HAIDEN WEDDING

One of the most charming weddings of the season occurred at the Emmanuel Lutheran church Wednesday evening, uniting in marriage Miss Emma Koehler, 418 Caledonia street, and Fred Haiden, 1023 Charles street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. N. Bergholz. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion—one of the prettiest floral pieces being a huge white bell placed over the altar.

At 8 o'clock, to the strains of Lohegrin's wedding march, played by Arthur Maas, the bridal procession passed up the aisle along which six girls held ribbons.

The bride was supported by Miss Emma Haiden, sister of the groom, and Mr. Will Haiden acted as best man. The Misses Elda Holst, Clara Mikkelsen and Messrs. Herman Richter and Frank Haiden were the attendants.

The impressive ring ceremony was used, Miss Lela White carrying the rings in a basket.

The bride was beautifully attired in a becoming gown of cream crepe du chine trimmed with gilt lace, while Miss Haiden, the maid of honor, was gowned in steel blue.

After the ceremony a reception followed at the home of the bride, the house being artistically decorated with smilax, ferns and chrysanthemums.

The happy young couple left Thursday morning amidst congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends for their honeymoon trip to Minneapolis and western points. They will make their home at 1543 Charles street after their return to the city.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Koehler of Manchester, Iowa; Mrs. J. J. Anderson, Manchester, Iowa; Mrs. L. Lambrecht, Milwaukee, and Mr. A. Schultz, Edgewood, Iowa.

THE SECRET OUT.

"What made my lovely complexion? I do not like to tell, for it was medicine, but the nicest a woman ever took. It was Lane's Family Medicine that did it." This is a pleasant herb tea which acts favorably on the stomach and bowels, purifying the blood and cleansing the skin like magic. It cures headache and backache. Druggists and dealers sell it, 25c.

Fulfilling Instructions

The managing editor wheeled his chair around and pushed a button in the wall. The person wanted entered.
"Here," said the editor, "are a number of directions from outsiders as the best way to run a newspaper. See that they are all carried out."

And the office-boy, gathering them all into a large waste basket, did so.—Green Bag.

LEITHOLD'S

"The Best Place To Buy a Piano"

Either With or Without a PIANOLA.

Your selection of a piano may very properly become a SELECTION OF THE HOUSE FROM WHICH YOU BUY IT.

At Leithold's, the underlying conditions are the most favorable imaginable to the intending purchaser. This is headquarters for the greatest musical instrument business in the northwest.

In so large a business, a single sale counts for little in comparison with the broad principle of leaving behind ONLY SATISFIED CUSTOMERS.

No matter whether your order is for a New Upright at $225 or a magnificent Weber Grand for $1,000, your absolute satisfaction is the prime consideration.

The old abuses of the piano business (such as a high "asking price" with an unknown "taking price," depending upon the shrewdness of the buyer) have been wholly eliminated.

At Leithold's, the first price is the lowest—EVERYONE GETS IT.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

IOWA BANK SAFE BROKEN BY YEGGS

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 20.—Two masked men dynamited the safe in the Bank of Alleman, at Alleman, a small station ten miles north of Des Moines, securing $1,600 in money, and escaping toward Des Moines in a buggy.
The rig broke down in the outskirts of the city and the men took to flight, pursued by farmers and Des Moines policemen, who had been put on guard by telephone.
Ole Lambie, a constable, drove the rig into the city and was himself arrested by one of the policemen on guard. The robbers are still at large.

WAUKEGAN BROKE; POLICEMEN "FIRED"

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Nov. 20.—The city of Waukegan is "broke."
So sadly embarrassed in finances is the city that last night only two policemen guarded its citizens, only three of fifteen firemen were on the city payroll, and the streets were lighted only because the electric company agreed to wait for its pay.

Not one cent can be secured by the city to pay its bills or the salaries of its officials and employees. Bills amounting to $5,000 are awaiting payment, the policemen and the firemen have not received their last month's pay and more accounts are piling up each day.

As a result Fred W. Buck, mayor of Waukegan, yesterday "cut down" expenses by discharging city officers and suspending improvement work. He will also dismiss the city engineer, sell fire and police horses and wagons and discontinue council meetings and other municipal machinery.

The "economizing process" followed a special election on Tuesday on the issuance of bonds for $55,000. The bond proposition was voted down by the referendum election and the mayor immediately "cut down" expenses. He is abetted by the city aldermen.

STEAMER BRANSFORD A COMPLETE WRECK

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 20.—The steamer Bransford is a wreck on Isle Royale. She went aground in the heavy gale.

The No. 3 compartment of the Bransford is stove in, her cargo is considerably listed and the boat is in bad shape. It is very probable that the ship will become a complete wreck.

HEART DISEASE CLAIMS DAUGHTER

Heart disease caused the death of Miss Anetta Moewes, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Moewes, 221 Market street, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon after an illness of four months. Her parents a sister and two brothers survive her. Services will be held at 2:30 Monday afternoon at the German Reform church, Rev. Lempke officiating.

PAYS A TRIBUTE TO LA FOLLETTE

In a certain speech during the performance of "A Gentleman from Mississippi" at the theater last evening Burr McIntosh paid a tribute to Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin who he classed among the small body of fighting reformers at Washington. He promised that La Follette would be heard from in times to come, and his remarks were greeted with applause which showed the popularity of the senior senator in La Crosse.

WISCONSIN NEWS

ADDS 78 MEN TO MILWAUKEE POLICE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 20.—As a result of the murder of Hattie Zinda, the resolution providing for an increase of 78 men on the police force will be adopted by the council Monday afternoon without opposition.

All members of the committee on police, and other members of the council, are in favor of increasing the police force. They have exhibited willingness to provide an increase each year.

MR. GILLIVRAY OUT FOR GOVERNORSHIP

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 20.—J. J. McGilivray of Black River Falls, president of the senate during Robert M. La Follette's terms as governor, stated yesterday, while attending the meeting of the Wisconsin consistory, that he was "not unwilling at this time to be considered a candidate for the nomination for governor" on the republican ticket.
He will announce his candidacy formally at an early date.

CAUGHT AT CARDS, MARSHAL LOSES JOB

DEPERE, Wis., Nov. 20.—John Shea, marshal of Depere, was indefinitely suspended from duty by Mayor D. C. Jones, and formal charges of misconduct may be laid before the city council at a meeting Monday night by the city executive.
The mayor claims he saw Shea sitting at a card table, apparently playing cards in a saloon.
